

NON-BINARY YOUTH IN SPORT SOCIAL MEDIA INFOGRAPHICS

Introduction

Martha Gumprich, MSc, and Nicola Hare from Trans Connect have taken the findings from Martha's thesis - the experiences of non-binary youth in organized team sports in Canada, along with suggestions posed by youth from focus group sessions and created The Canadian Non-binary Youth in Sport Report. There are two sets of infographics that can be shared on social media and summarize the main findings and solutions to the issues presented. The first set addresses avoidance of sport and the second pertains to experiences in sport. We appreciate your support and sharing of our work!

Sample caption for avoidance of sport:

Non-binary youth are avoiding sports for many reasons. The Canadian Non-binary Youth in Sport Report has clear, easy to follow suggestions for making sport more inclusive of all genders.

Sample caption for experiences in sport:

Non-binary youth are facing many barriers and acts of discrimination in sport. The Canadian Non-binary Youth in Sport Report has clear, easy to follow suggestions for making sport more inclusive of all genders.

Generic sample caption:

We've committed to making our spaces more inclusive for gender minorities. We are actively learning from the findings and suggestions of The Canadian Non-binary Youth in Sport Report summarized in these slides.

Download the avoiding sport infographics here!

Download the experiences in sport infographics here!

Don't forget to tag Trans Connect (@transkootenays) and the REAFFIRM Collaborative (@reaffirmcollaborative) on Instagram and Facebook!

TRANS
CONNECT

REAFFIRM
COLLABORATIVE